

FRENCH BOMBARD MOROCCAN CITY

Moors Fire on Landing Party which Charges on Troops, Killing Many Natives.

CRUISERS THEN SHELL THE NATIVE QUARTER

Spanish Cruiser Takes Part in Bombardment—No Europeans Killed in Fighting—The Tribesmen Suing for Peace.

By Associated Press.

TANGIER, August 6.—Casa Blanca, on the Moroccan coast, has been bombarded by French cruisers. Moors are reported to have been shot down in large numbers and the town since last Sunday night has been practically in the possession of landing parties from French and Spanish cruisers. The first shots were fired by the Moors. The French responded with a bayonet charge and the bombardment of the native quarter with melinite shells. The French had six men wounded, but no one was killed. No European residents were hurt. The occupation of Casa Blanca is the direct outcome of the native uprising which resulted in the killing last week of eight Europeans at Casa Blanca.

Both France and Spain are hurrying other warships with troops and marines on board to various points on the Moroccan coast for the protection of foreigners.

Under the terms of the Algeiras convention these two powers are charged with the policing of the ports of Morocco and their action at Casa Blanca has brought no protest from any of the powers.

How Trouble Began

According to a semi-official account of the fighting at Casa Blanca, the commander of the Galilee asked permission to land a guard to protect the French consulate, which was granted but while the guard was proceeding to the consulate it was fired upon in the streets and six bluejackets and an ensign were wounded. The French then cleared the streets at the point of the bayonet, killing many Moors. On arriving at the consulate, the guard signalled a Spanish cruiser, which landed a guard for the consulate of Spain. The warship then bombarded the Arab quarter of Casa Blanca.

The Casa Blanca battery fired a couple of blank shots when the Duchayla was entering the bay and the cruiser replied, destroying a part of the battery, the Moorish gunners retreating.

Didn't Shell Europeans

The European part of the city was not touched. The Duchayla then shelled the beach, where there were a number of Kalyies assembled, killing many of them.

The cruisers also shelled the outskirts of Casa Blanca, where groups of Moors were seen.

The French ships at Casa Blanca are the Galilee, Duchayla and Forbin and the Spanish cruiser is the Don Alvaro de Bazan.

Senor Nezzerani, the Italian minister here, has demanded reparation for the murder of three Italians at Casa Blanca and the wounding of a fourth Italian. The minister insists on punishment of the guilty persons and payment of indemnity to the families of the victims.

Reports from Rabat say the situation there is critical. Berger tribesmen continue threatening to invade the city and panic-stricken Europeans are fleeing the place.

FOUGHT IN STREETS

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

PARIS, August 6.—A special from Tangier says that street fighting and the bombardment of Casa Blanca, according to a refugee who arrived on the steamer Anatole, continued throughout Sunday and was still in progress when the Anatole left Sunday evening.

The French ships fired a total of about 2,000 shells. The number of Moorish dead will run into the hundreds. A single party of marines killed 150 Moors. The French wounded number about twelve. No Frenchmen were killed. On Saturday night the Moorish Pasha at Casa Blanca was advised that troops would be landed the next day. He gave assurances that the city would remain calm. At 5 o'clock Sunday morning a detachment of fifty marines in command of an ensign were landed.

Moors Start Fighting

Hardly had they passed the water gate before they received a volley at point-blank range from a detachment of regular Moorish troops. Five marines and the ensign were wounded. The ensign was shot through both hands. In spite of his injuries, he ordered the men to fix bayonets and charge. This the Frenchmen did, and in the fighting 150 Moors lost their lives. The marines continued their way, clearing the ground of the enemy as they went until they reached the French consulate, where the French citizens in Casa Blanca had taken refuge.

Other European residents had sought safety at their respective consulates. In the meantime the Galilee had commenced the shelling of native villages outside Casa Blanca to prevent armed Arabs from entering the city. According to the passenger the shells could be seen ploughing up the earth, killing men and horses.

Gets Into Action Quickly

At 11 o'clock the Duchayla arrived.

ITALIAN RIOT IS SOON SUPPRESSED

By Associated Press.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., August 6.—Word was received late this afternoon from Fordyce, a village ten miles west, that a gang of rioting Italians had control of the town. Sheriff Hanson and a posse went from here. A messenger from Fordyce states that Hanson has suppressed the rioting Italians and has made seventeen arrests.

Many Italians evading arrest were driven into the adjacent woods by the posse.

The Italians were employed as laborers by the Iron Mountain road. They demanded the dismissal of Foreman Robert House and upon the refusal of Roadmaster Carey to accede to the demand, set upon House and Carey. Soon the fighting became general and the village was terrorized.

Mayor Crain and almost the entire population of Fordyce armed themselves with revolvers, shotguns, rifles and by threatening to shoot, stayed the mob. Seventeen of the gang were arrested and brought here tonight. The rest escaped to the woods. No one was injured by the rioters, but the villagers are much incensed against the Italians.

SAYS MURDERER COULD NOT HAVE BEEN HAU

MANNHEIM, August 6.—Another witness has come forward to declare that Karl Hau, former professor of George Washington university, who was found guilty of the murder of his mother-in-law, Frau Molitor, at Karlsruhe, and condemned to death, is in reality innocent of the crime. The name of the new witness is Lingenan.

Lingenan in his statement has created a sensation. He affirms that at the time of the murder last November he was walking behind Frau Molitor and her daughter. He saw the flash of a pistol and saw once of the women fall. He did not see the murderer, but says he couldn't have possibly been Hau.

Cripple Creek Mine Owners Fire Union Men—Anticipate Federation Move

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., August 6.—A special from Cripple Creek says: Following the decision of the Mine Owners association, which met in conference at Colorado Springs yesterday, to strictly enforce the "card permit" system in the Cripple Creek district, several mining companies today discharged miners supposed or known to be union men.

This action was taken in anticipation of an attempt by the Western Federation to reorganize the district. The return of Haywood to Colorado had much to do with the decision of the mine owners.

Territorial Statute Ineffective Where the Government Has Legislated—Hearing on the Federal Charge Held Today.

R. G. Scott, who on Monday night was arrested with Oscar Hyatt on a territorial charge of selling liquor to Indians in the vicinity of the Mitchell smelter site, pleaded guilty to the offense in Judge Thomas' court yesterday and, on waiving statutory time before sentence, was given six months in the county jail.

Scott had just begun to serve his sentence when Attorney C. L. Rawlins began to get busy. He had been engaged to defend Hyatt, whose hearing was to have been held today, and he decided to have Scott released on a writ of habeas corpus secured on the ground that as there was a federal statute providing for this offense, the territorial statute could not be invoked. A hearing was held before Judge Nave in chambers at 5 o'clock and the court ordered Scott's release.

The sheriff's office had been put wise, however, and a deputy was waiting for Scott with a federal warrant secured from United States Court Commissioner C. T. Martin, and he was again committed to jail to await his hearing before the court commissioner this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Federal Statute Paramount

Although there have been many instances where fines and jail sentences have been imposed for the violation of the territorial statute prohibiting the selling of liquor to Indians, the supreme court has held that a federal statute is paramount to a territorial statute covering a like offense, the decision having been made on an appeal taken from a judgment by Judge Nave in Graham county in which the lower court's decision was affirmed. Consequently the same applies to crimes of adultery, bigamy and train robbery, which have been the object of legislation for territories by the federal government. The case created considerable interest among the members of the local bar. It is safe to say that hereafter any persons arrested for any of the crimes named will be apprehended on federal warrants only and Uncle Sam instead of Gila county will have to stand the expense of the trials.

RICH CARBONATES IN BLACK OXIDE

Splendid Strike Made in Superior & Boston Mine Reported Yesterday

A strike of rich carbonate ore is reported to have been made yesterday at the bottom of the winze on the Black Oxide mine of the Superior & Boston Copper company. The rich strata is about five inches thick and the ore assays 45 per cent copper. The bottom of the winze is all in ore of a lower grade and on the southwest wall of the winze nearly all the way down ore is exposed from which the lowest assay obtained gives 9 per cent copper. The southwest drift has been in 5 to 6 per cent ore for a distance of more than fifty feet. There are 100 tons of shipping ore on the dump, most of which was taken out in driving the drift. An ore bin is being constructed below the mouth of the tunnel and the company will soon commence shipping ore to the Old Dominion smelter.

CARRIED CORPSE IN THEIR TRUNK

Couple Arrested in France After Horrible Discovery—Head and Feet in Valise

By Associated Press.

MARSEILLES, August 6.—A trunk belonging to a man and a woman who arrived today from Monte Carlo attracted the attention of a baggage-man, who caused it to be opened. It was found to contain the body of a woman cut to pieces. The man and woman were arrested. They had asked that the trunk be forwarded to London. The couple, who are middle aged, gave the names of Mr. and Mrs. Gold, residents of Monte Carlo. They denied that they committed the crime and informed the examining magistrate that they knew the victim only slightly. While the latest was at their home Sunday last the woman's lover arrived and blew out her brains. The Golds, fearing they would be compromised, tried to get rid of the corpse.

The head and feet were in the valise and the rest of the body in the trunk. An autopsy seemed to upset the theory held by the Golds. It was shown that the murdered woman was seized from behind and held while stabbed to death. A commission has been sent to Monte Carlo to investigate the crime.

MOB VENGEANCE FOR NEAR CRIMES

Several Alleged Attacks on New York Children Followed by Attempted Lynching.

THOUSAND PURSUE AND MAUL GREEK PEDDLER

Tried to Kiss Little Italian Girl and Is Almost Strung Up—Two Others Are Badly Beaten by Enraged Mobs.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 6.—More of what have come to be known at police headquarters as "near crimes" against girls were committed and followed by attempted lynchings today. Out of a score of complaints a half dozen demanded serious attention. Whether the number is extraordinary is disputed, but certain it is that never before has mob vengeance so frequently attended attacks upon children.

Led by a woman, who alternately in Italian and broken English cried, "Avenge my daughter!" a reckless crowd of two thousand persons tonight stormed the Fourteenth street car barns, where a policeman had sought refuge with a seriously pummeled prisoner.

Kissed Wrong Girl

Paul Sorgerat, a Greek peddler 30 years of age, had made the mistake of kissing Grace Joseco, an Italian of 11. A shrill cry from the girl and an impassioned appeal by the mother put the foreigners of the neighborhood in a rage, and as the Greek took to his heels a crowd pursued. Sorgerat stumbled and fell and the mob was upon him and kicked him nearly senseless.

Someone snatched a clothesline from the window of a grocery store and the rioters attempted to put the noose over the offender's head. Only the over-cagerness of each rioter to have a hand in the lassoing saved the peddler's neck, as during the confusion a policeman arrived and clubbed his way to the endangered man.

Drags Man to Safety

For a moment the crowd fell back and the officer dragged the man to the car barns. Concealing his prisoner in a car, the officer waited for assistance while the rioters threw themselves against the doors in their efforts to force an entrance. Police reserves stood off the mob while the Greek was hustled into a patrol wagon. Through a crowd that cried, "Kill him!" "Lynch him!" the police fought their way to the nearest station. Sorgerat was in bad shape, but it was thought inadvisable to attempt his removal to a hospital.

The crowd vented its fury on an unoffending workman homeward bound, who was pointed out by a boy at the same time yelling, "That's the man's friend; he was there too!" Keristael was pounded until unconscious. Police reserves finally got the injured man and removed him to a hospital.

Another Beaten Up

Edward Pratt, a millwright 46 years old, had a peculiar experience on West Fifty-seventh street. Nellie and Helen Farrell, each about 10 years old, accused Pratt of improper remarks. He was rightfully maulled before being rescued by the police.

"This is not a crime wave," said Superintendent Jenkins of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, today. "I mean
